GEORGETOWN COLLEGE.-Kentucky may well be proud of her educational institutions. In addition to old Transvlvania, now a State normal school, there are Bethel and Bacon and Center, and other colleges, which would do honor to any State.

Among these, and in the front rank, stands Georgetown College, Scott county. Some year or so back, and soon after President Campbell took charge of the institution, the startling announcement was made that, notwithstanding the apparent prosperity of the dlege, it had no real endowment, and unless something was done for it immediately, all operations must be indefinitely suspended. Under these circumstances Dr. Campbell was called to and entered upon the work of raising an endowment fund. Eighteen months have passed, and at the recent commencement exercises at Georgetown it was announced that the proposed fund of one hundred thousand dollars was nearly all raised, and the college placed on a commanding and firm foundation. A vote was enthusiastically passed by the General Association of Baptists thanking the President for his industry and energy in this unexpected achievement. Georgetown College was never in as prosperous a condition as at present. The number of its students, as seen by the catalogue, was two hundred. The graduating class was unusually large and talented. Of the President we need not say one word. He possesses all the scholastic attainments, practical common sense, and tireless energy peculiar to his Scottish training. The ege will open its regular term the September, with prospects as bright as those of any institution in America.

MISS ELIZA LOGAN.—This great actress has achieved a most extraordinary triumph in New York. For years the theatrical managers of that city declined to give her an engagement for no other apparent reason than that they were prejudiced egsinst Western talent. She however was not dis costsaged. With all her modesty, she understands own powers, and she therefore took a lease of Wallsch's theatre, being resolved that the people of New York should have an opportunity to judge of her performances for themselves.

The result has certainly fulfilled her very highes hopes. She draws immense houses every evening and the presses echo and reecho her praises. They agree that she has no superior, even if she has an equal, in America. She has won her laurels nobly, and she will as nobly wear them.

A distinguished gentleman of this city has received, as a present, a pair of beautiful golden sleeve-buttons, set with wood from the celebrated Charter Oak. The sets are decorated with the representation of the cross, and the jowels are otherwise beautiful. Such a gift is worth having.

Democrat.

Indeed it is. We have the honor to wear the beautiful sleeve-buttons aforesaid, set with wood from the Charter Oak, and presented to us by a valued friend in this city; we occasionally carry a handsome cane manufactured from the Charter Oak and presented to us by our friend the Hon. J. W Stuart, the proprietor of the Charter Oak place, to gether with several charming little Charter Oak mementos from Mrs. Stuart; and we have the most exquisitely beautiful pistol we ever saw, with a Charter Oak stock, presented us by our friend Col. Colt, the distinguished inventor of the pistol that

This is indeed one of the sweetest, pleasantest, and most delightful of all the productions of the American muse. [For the Louisville Bulletin.] THE FLIGHT OF APRIL

By frozen rills Among the hills Was smiling April lost, When winter stern

His icy urn Had left all wreathed with frost.

Her tears and smiles And countless wiles Filled his cold heart with joy, And there he left The glitt'ring gift Her footsteps to decoy.

No sooner spied The maid blue-eyed This wondrous vase of sheen Than hail was strung
And snow-wreaths hung
All o'er her robes of green.

Right quick she threw Her violets blue And golden crocus down, And gemmed them o'er With frost before She wove another crown.

And when the sun A web of amber light, She sang with glee And laughed to see

But soon alas! It came to pass That Sol his light withdrew, When cold beneath That frosted wreath Fair April's forehead grew.

And through her heart An ley dart med piercing when the sross On her warm breast That green robe drest In white festoons of frost.

The wind blew bleak. And on her cheek The tears soon turned to sleet, Which, falling, crushed The buds that blushed In beauty at her feet,

Her voice was mute, Her breezy lute Lay broken on the hill, And in her ear Old winter's clarion shrill.

While there, spell-bound, She stood, the sound Of icy armor rang O'er field and flood And shook the wood With cold and dismal clang.

She went with fear. For lo! drew near
The hoary-headed king And doffed his crown And knelt him down
To woo the child of Spring.

With fingers sharp He swept his harp ong the tall pines hung, Nor all in vain His wild strange strain To list ning April sung.

For frail and fair And trembling there e harked his tale of love, Though cold as death His freezing breath snow-shroud round her wove

Her heart grew proud
As low he bowed
To woo her budding charms, And far away She fled that day, Clasped in his icy arme.

With fickle heart She did depart, mourned her mother's grief, The spring bereft,

Yet spring did yearn For her return, And hoping was beguiled, Till from the north A voice came forth

With tidings of her child. To halls of rime In northern clime Had winter borne his prize, And crowned her queen

Lit up by polar ekies. Her mournful smile Made for awhile Those dismal shores seem bright. And 'neath ite glow Were fields of snow

Laft blushing with delight. To bid her ball The feebergs pale
Their frozen javeline dash
Upon the strand,
While loud and grand

Their icy cymbals clashed But drooped and died Old winter's bride Within his frozen palace, And for her se The north winds toll

And waves the boreelis,

A funeral torch Which cannot scorch Like ghosts of bloom, Through her snow-wrapped tomb, From April's broken heart, PICKPOCKETS ARRESTED .- The great celebration at Lexington to-day has drawn numerous pickpockets hitherward, both males and females, and they are generally of English origin. A trio of them, named James Wilson, alias James Anderson, alias Robert Anderson, a woman, and Joseph Clegg, arrived here on Wednesday from Chicago, on their way to Lexington. They gut up at the Neil House, Clegg, who is an American, and the woman, who is English, and claims to be Clegg's wife, occupying one room; and Watson, who is an Englishman, an-

Yesterday morning Watson and the woman salhed forth to try their hands on their favorite occupation. They went into a drygoods store on Market street and bought some trifling article. Mrs. Greenlaw, the wife of Capt. Greenlaw, and her servant were in the same store. Mrs. G. had made some purchase, and handed the storekeeper a $20 gold piece, who gave her three five dollar notes and some other money in change, which she put in a side pocket. This was seen by Watson. He was standing on one side of Mrs. G., and the English woman on the other. Watson stepped behind them, and bending down, put his hand between them toward the floor, and brought up a handkerchief which he said was dropped by his friend, and gave it to her. Wateon and the woman immediately afterwards lett. Mre. Greenlaw, in the meantime had made another purchase, and feeling for her portmonnaie, which contained the money, found that it was gone. The then remembered that at the time on pretended to pick up a hadkerchief, she thought that some one had their hand in her pocket, but was thrown off her guard by his coolness in the matter. A description of Watson and the woman was furnished to officer Bligh, who was not long in finding Watson about the Wharf. The officer kept his eye on him, but Watson, suspecting something goe ou the ferry-boat. Bligh followed and arrested him, brought him back and put him in jail. He then arrested the woman at the Neil House, and offficer Gallagher arrested Clegg at the same place .-Nothing of great value was found in their posses sion, except a snuff-box, which has the name of "Foster" on it, but the initials of the name are obliterated. They had tickets for Lexington.

Our friends of Lexington will do well to be on the alert. We have no doubt there are many of this kind of gentry among them.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE—Great Loss of Property—
Johnson & Meaders's Furniture Manufactory and W.
P. Resor & Co.'s Foundry Destroyed—Loss $250,000.

The most destructive and disastrous fire that has visited our city for many years occurred last night. About half-past eight o'clock a fire was discovered in the engine room of the large furniture manufactory of Meader, Johnson, & Co., on the north-west corner of Smith and Front streets.

The flames communicated to the main building adjoining, a five-story brick, and in a brief space of

The flames communicated to the main building adjoining, a five-story brick, and in a brief space of time it was enveloped in flames. The fire department was soon on the ground, but owing to the combustible material within the walls of the building, it was next to impossible to cheek the progress of the fire. The flames spread with almost lightning rapidity, and the heat was very intense. Torrents of water from near twenty streams was poured upon the burning building, but they were, apparently, powerless. Adjoining, on the south, was another brick building, four-storys in height, belonging to the same firm, which caught fire and was soon a mass of burning matter, together with two two-story frames on the north part, also belonging to the same establishment. In the reor was the large

On the south-west corner of Front and Smith streets was situated the large stove and hollow ware foundery of W. P. Resor & Co., which caught fire in the roof, and the flames soon spread throughout the upper part, although several streams of water were ught to bear upon it. In less than an hour the SUMMER SHAKER FLANNEL SHIRTS and DRAWS ERS for sale at [13] MANSFIELD'S.

We cannot refrain from making special mention of nine hogsheads of tobacco sold yesterday at Spratt & Harper's (the Pickett) warehouse. It was of last year's growth, and averaged round $14 88, which, taking into consideration the present state of the markets at all points, is the best sale of the season. We have seen some few hogsheads out of a crop bring higher prices, but have never seen a lot of the number, all grown by the same planter, to equal it in neatness of handling and evenness of quality. The highest figure was $16 25 and the lowest $13 55. It was grown and sold by A. J. Farrar, Esq., of Christian county, Ky.

The only regret we have in the matter is that Mr. Farrar is not as good an American as he is a planter, yet we have our hope and belief that so excellent a gentleman and planter cannot remain a terrible Democrat all his life.

The Somerset True American has an article of more than two columns upon the lecture of our senior editor at that place. We quote two or three paragraphs:

paragraphs:

Pernyton's Lecture.—On Saturday last, a large and intelligent audience assembled at the court-house in this place to hear the distinguished poet and statesman of Kennicky. We were pleased to see a goodly number of the most intelligent citizens of Wayne, and other adjoining counties present.

We cannot give anything like a synopsis of Mr. Prentice's speech, nor even the substance of this great speech, because it is all "substance." We have no room to particularize the peculiar excellencies of this address, except to say that its diction was as perfect as mortal man could make it. Its power was overwhelming, and perfectly irresistible. Its power was overwhelming, and perfectly irresistible. It breathed the purest, most disinterested, and loftiest spirit of patriotism we ever heard fall from the lips of nan.

The speaker acknowledged that he had been and was still a partisan. But on this occasion it was a noble sight to see him rise up from the midst of the surging waves of faction and partisan strife, and boldly rebuke the sefishness, demagogism, and villatny of all parties and factions. It was like a proud ship standing a mid the surging waves of the mighty ocean, and bidding defiance to the rolling billows of the trackless deep.

THE NATIONAL ANNIVERSARY,-To a stranger. the city on Saturday seemed to be depopulated. All business was suspended, and the day appeared like a Sabbath. While quietness reigned supreme at home, the surrounding country was alive with picnic and other social parties. The railroad companies had to bring into requisition all their locomotives and cars to accommodate the public.

Several thousand of our citizens attended the ceremonies at Lexington. They returned on Saturday and Sunday. We must defer our account of the proceedings in that city till to-morrow.

The citizens of Eminence celebrated the Fourth by a grand dinner. An oration was delivered by Mr. Armstrong, a graduate of Georgetown College.

SANDUSKY, INDIANA, AND LOUISVILLE RAILROAD A meeting of the stockholders of this road took place at Cambridge City week before last. The meeting was well attended, and quite an interest was manifested in the road. Mr. Lewis Maddux was elected President of the company. Messrs Johane Amos, C. S. Donaldson, Jacob Mull, and J. Shawhan were elected Directors for Rush county. Hon. James Guthrie, of this city, was also elected a Director. Messrs. Garret of Winchester, Sol. Meredith of Richmond, Lafe Devilen, and Thomas Tyner were elected Directors for the eastern portion of the State. Stock solicitors have also been appointed, and the company is now fully organized. They expect to go to work in earnest and have the road completed at once. The work has assumed the name of the Sandusky, Indiana, and Louisville Railroad. It commences at Sandusky City, Ohio, and traverses about one hundred and ten miles of that State before it strikes the Indiana line. We believe the principal place on its route after leaving Sandusky is Union, where it will connect with several of the most important Western roads. It will take an air line course from the last named place to this city. passing through Winchester in Randolph county, Cambridge in Wayne county, Rushville in Rush county, Shelbyville in Shelby county, and Columbus in Bartholomew county. The road will connect with the Bellefontaine road at Winchester, with the Cincinnati and Chicago road at Cambridge, with the Indianapolis and Cincinnati road at Shelbyville, with the Madison and Indianapolis road at Columbus, and with the Ohio and St. Louis road at Jeffersonville. About sixty miles of the road between Sandusky and Union is already graded and ready for placing the iron upon it. The iron has been procured for eighty miles of the road and will be laid down immediately.

If the company succeed in negotiating for the Rushville and Shelbyville, and for the Shelbyville and Columbus roads, it will leave about one hundred miles of the road to be built. They expect to have the road completed and the cars running between Rushville and Louisville this fall. length of the road, as contemplated, cannot fall far short of three hundred miles.

The road will undoubtedly be built. Men of capital and energy have taken hold of it, and those of but moderate means are anxious to secure its

The quarter-master and commissary departments at St. Louis have been engaged since the 5th of May in fitting out the Utah expedition. The number of troops forwarded by them to the West is 1,600; the number of horses purchased, 302; number of mules, 234; number of wagons, with harness for six mule teams, 325; total number of tons of quartermaster's and commissary stores, purchased and shipped, 5,750; number of bushels of oats, 15,-600; bushels of corn, 70,000; steamers engaged, 45; and number of teamsters employed, 200. The value of the quarter-master's stores is $700,000, and that of the commissary's stores, $328,000. It does not embrace the materiel of war furnished by the St. Louis arsenal, and in the preparation of which an average of 100 men have been for some time employed. When the whole account comes to be footed up, it will be found that this expedition has been the means of disbursing some twelve or fifteen hundred thousand dollars in Missouri, to say nothing of transportation across the plains, the supply of beef cattle, &c., contracts for which have already been made.

A Double Murder .- On Monday last, Mr. Patrick Gallaher, a highly-esteemed citizen of Franklin county, Mo., was shot and probably killed by a man named Blackwell. Gallaher was the owner of mill in Franklin county, and some words had passed between the parties. Gallaher was unarmed. Blackwell procured two pistols and a shot-gun, the last loaded with buck-shot. With these arms he returned to the mill, in company with his son, where he found Gallaher and a young man named Kearny. Gallaher was shot with the gun, the most of the load striking him in the hip and the legs, and one of the buck-shot in the body, passing just above the liver. As Gallaher fell, Kearny ran up to support him, and he was wounded by a shot fired by a son of Blackwell, after which the latter fired at and killed him also. The murderers escaped, although great excitement was produced in the county, and the male population turned out in pursuit of them. They are said to have taken the direction of St. Louis. One letter says that Gallaher was not dead, but mortally wounded; another, that he was killed.

J. S. R. Chipman, mentioned as having been convicted at the last term of the Guilford, N. C., Court of the murder of Miss Pinnix, has escaped from jail. Much excitement prevails in the community in consequence of the murderer's escape, and as to how he was furnished with the requisite instruments with which to cut through eighteen iron bars between Thursday and Saturday. His estimable but broken-hearted mother paid him a long visit on Thursday, at which time his cell was examined.

The Maysville Eagle is informed that Wm. Orr, Esq., of Bracken county, sold, a few days ago, his entire last year's crop of wine to a gentleman in New York for $2 50 per gallon. This is the highest price we have yet heard of the native wine selling for in this country, and it speaks well for the adaptation of Bracken soil to the grape business.

The Uranian Literary Society of the State University of Missouri, at Columbia, have voted an honorary membership to Miss Matilda Heron. This character of compliment is rare indeed, and, to our knowledge, has only been extended by similar societies to two other ladies in the United States-Mrs. Mowatt and Mrs. Caroline Lee Hentz.

THE PRETENDED SPIRITUAL MANIFESTATIONS The Boston Courier prints the following award of the committee who were appointed to investigate the controversy between that journal and Dr. H. F. The committee find, of course, that there is no just ground for this belief:

course, that there is no just ground for this belief:

The committee award that Dr. Gardner, having failed to produce before them an agent or medium who "communicated a word imparted to the spirits in an adjoining room," "who read a word in English written inside a book, or folded sheet of paper," who answered any question "which the superior intelligences must be able to answer," "who tilted a plano without touching it, or caused a chair to move a foot;" and having failed to exhibit to the committee any phenomenon which under the widest latitude of interpretation could be regarded as equivalent to either of these proposed tests, or any phenomenon which required for its production or in any manner indicated a force which could technically be denominated Spiritual, or which was hitherto unknown to science, or a phenomenon of which the cause was not palpable to the committee, is, therefore, not entitled to claim from the Boston Courier the proposed premium of five hundred dollars.

THE PEARL DISCOVERIES .- The Journal of Comnerce notices some interesting facts connected with the pearl discoveries in New Jersey. The result falls short of the generally exaggerated estimate, both as regards numbers and value. Present labor, oo, it seems, is not so well rewarded as former efforts, and many discovered are defective in shape

We were shown the largest one which has yet been found, and ascertained its estimated value to be $1,500. This pearl is rarely surpassed, either in size or appearance, by any that are imported, being over a quarter of an inch in circumference, being over a quarter of an inch in circumference, or nearly the size of a boy's marble, very lustrous, perfectly spherical, and delicately tinted with blue, literally "pearl color," thus combining all the requisites for a pearl of the first class. Its weight, which is the chief criterion of excellence, is exactly 93 grains. It was found in New Jersey. Most of these pearls are beautifully tinted with pink, which color is deemed, by Paris connoisseurs, to be in no wise inferior to white. Tiffany & Co. have purchased about 100 valuable pearls, many of which are estimated to be singly worth from fifty to which are estimated to be singly worth from fifty to seventy-five dollars, and are about the size of a large pea. Besides these, there are something like 300, or about a gill, of all sizes, shapes, and colors, which are comparatively valueless. It is very common for them to be pearl-shaped, or irregular. Some times two or three little lustrous globules are found adhering; and in most cases the pearl seems to be a secretion, formed by successive luming of calcateous secretion, formed by successive lumina of calcateous matter. A pair of very curious muscle-shells were found recently by one of the pearl-diggers, having imbedded in their interior surface a small white button. The animal apparently having been unable to effect its removal, had nearly covered it with a substance resembling that of which the shell itself is formed. formed by successive luminæ of calcareous

Although pearls have been found most plentifully in New Jersey, it is calculated by one well-qualified judge that the total value of the discoveries does not exceed $6,000. Yet as many as one thousand men have been employed at one time in searching for pearls, and at length the mussels have been well nigh exterminated. This last result is not at all strange, exterminated. This last result is not at all strange, when it is considered what a relentless warfare has been kept up against this unfortunate bivalve. One man, who offered some pearls for sale the other day, remarked that he opened two thousand without finding a pearl. Taking all that have yet been discovered, it is probable that four times their value has been expended in the search. Some very good pearls have been found in this State; also in Massachusetts, and in some of the small streams in the valley of the Connecticut. A number have been re-ceived here from Ohio, and it is likely they exist to some extent wherever the black, fresh water mussel is found. It has been observed that the smaller and least attractive of the mussel tribe, such as appear to have had rough usage or been broken, are most likely to contain the bright silvery, translucent subso much sought for. The genuineness of the article is unquestioned.

An exchange paper says with philosophy:

To the Public.—On the 20th of May last, Miss Sarah E. Jarratt, daughter of Rev. N. R. From this place, on the 23d of that month, she wrote to her father's family, residing near Holly Springs, Miss., that she intended to become a nun, by joining the order of "The Sacred Heart." This gave as the reason of leaving her friends in the On the 25th May, Miss we learn, visited "St. Agnes Academy," a Roman Catholic female seminary in this city.

Since then she has not been heard from, directly or indirectly. Her friends have searched for her diligently in several States, where it was at all probable she would go to carry out her intention of taking the veil, but up this time not a trace of her has been found.

Any information concerning her will be most gratefully received by her mourning friends. Address Rev. N. R. Jarratt, Holly Springs, Miss., or Dr. Wm. V. Taylor, Memphis, Tenn.

Should this notice fall under Miss Jarratt's eye, we are instructed by her friends to assure her that they long very much for her return, and that in the event of her adhering, after a fair experiment, to her resolution to join the Catholic Church and take the veil, they will offer no impediment to the accomplishment of her wishes. They implore her to at least inform them where she is sojourning, so that they may correspond with her; and they promise not to obtrude themselves upon her place of seclusion without her consent.—Memphis Enquirer.

As the newspapers are now commenting on the fact that Mr. Wm. Carey Jones, of this city, has recently made his appearance in Central America as a confidential agent of this government, we may not improperly explain what we have every reason to believe to be the character and purpose of the errand or which he was ever there. Thus, we have to say improperly explain what we have every reason to believe to be the character and purpose of the errand on which he was sent there. Thus, we have to say before the ejection of Walker from Nicaragua it became necessary that the government here should have positive and in every way reliable information concerning the true state of affairs in that State. That is, as to the question whether Walker really represented any Nicaraguan government, or simply a fillibuster usurpation of the government of that country; if the Rivas government, the last acknowledged by the United States, had, as represented, steadily preserved its apparent authority over the State everywhere, except where Walker's band held possession for the time being; what were the relative prospects of Walker and the Rivas government of eventually maintaining themselves in power; and, indeed, to clear up as far as possible the mysteries concerning the affairs of Nicaragua, growing for the most part out of the misrepresentations of published letters from that quarter and the misstatements of many interested parties. Our confident belief is that Mr. Jones was sent there to obtain such information. Ere he reached Nicaragua, Walker had been ejected; so the important point he was instructed to ascentain was known here ere his first dispatch could have been received. That is, that the only government now even pretending to have existence in Nicaragua is that of Rivas, against which istence in Nicaragua is that of Rivas, against which the expelled government of Walker was simply an unsuccessful rebellion or usurpation of foreigners. We may not inappropriately add, that the idea of a partition of Nicaragua has never been entertained there, however generally the story that the other Central American States were about to divide her provinces among themselves has obtained currency in this country. Our information from Nicaragua—and the Star's readers will bear witness that for the last four years our sources of information from that quarter have not misled us in a single instance—inquarter have not misled us in a single instance-in quarter have not misled us in a single instance—induces us to believe that her allies (Costa Rica, Guatemala, &c.) have never once broached the subject to her authorities. The story was evidently concocted in the United States in order to stir up American prejudices against her (Nicaragua's) allies, who have, from first to last, steadily dealt with the Rivas government as the only government of Nicaragua.

Nicaragua, Immediately after the surrender and ejection Walker, Rivas called a congress of the chiefs of the State, which promptly arranged for the future of its government; and in accordance with that arrangement Rivas has already resigned his authority into government; and in accordance with that arrange-ment Rivas has already resigned his authority into the hands of a Provisional Government, of which Martinez, of Granada, is the President, and Jerez, of Leon (up to that time Secretary of War under President Rivas), is Commander-in-Chief. CRIMINAL COURT .- The State's Attorney yesterday morning announced himself ready for trial in the case of the State vs. John Abel, and, it being understood that the defendant was also ready, the understood that the defendant was also ready, the Sheriff was ordered to bring him into court. In anticipation of the case being taken up, a large crowd of citizens had collected in the court-room, who comported themselves, though manifestly much interested in the proceedings, with good order and propriety. The prisoner was brought into court, took a seat behind the bar, appearing very calm, somewhat indifferent and self-possessed. The court asked him if he had counsel to defend him. His answer was "no"

nswer was "no."
He then asked if he was able to employ any. replied he was, but that he would like, with the court's permission, to defend himself; and he wished to make a short statement—and, giving the court to understand it was nothing in regard to the case, he was told to proceed. His remarks, as well as we can remember, were as follows:

"I had the misfortune last Wednesday to kill Mr. John Everson, a citizen of this place. On Friday night I was taken out of the jail and carried, as I supposed, to be hung, to the lower end of the ropewalk in the Navy Yard. On the way I met my mother—I expected to be executed. A gentleman there asked if I would, if carried back, select a jury ent of a hundred way and house my triel port. out of an hundred men, and have my trial next week—which is this week—I replied that I would; and I am here this morning to fulfill the agreement. I feel myself to be a doomed man—I am ready for trial, and shall abide the justice which this hall of justice shall give me."

He was told by the court that he could have or

He was told by the court that he could have or employ counsel to advise with him, if desired. He replied, "I do not wish any counsel. I prefer to conduct the case myself. I do not wish to have any lawyer to injure his reputation in defending me, or have the shame or judgment of the people against him. I wish to share all the shame and censure myself."

The Attorney General, Mr. Sale, remarked to the court that he preferred to have the defendant employ or select counsel, as he had never prosecuted a man without; and the prisoner being told by the court the duty of a lawyer, &c., Mr. Abel selected E. W. M. King, W. T. Brown, and C. B. Frazier, Esqs., who retired for a few moments with him, and when they returned Mr. Abel announced that he had consulted his jawyers and had learned from them that an important witness in the case had gone to the country; that he had no knowledge of it till now, and had determined to give himself up for trial, but that now he should give everything over to his lawyers and do as they advised; that he would only ask a delay until morning, and that he would be ready for trial, and, turning to the audie remarked that he thought this was but fair, and he hoped this would satisfy all. The cause was continued as desired, and the pris oner remanded to jail. The empaneling of the jury will commence this morning.

BLOODY RENCOUNTER AT MURFREESBORO', TENN. Two Men Servously and Probably Fatally Wounded.

A difficulty occurred at Murfreesboro', on Monday night, between two young men named Fly and Thompson, in which the latter was shot through the body. After receiving the wound, Thompson ran and Fly attempted to shoot him again, but the ball struck a young man named Somons, who was stand-ing in the door through which Thompson attempted to pass.

It is supposed by physicians that the two young men are mortally wounded. According to our information, a misunderstanding occurred between Mr. Fly, the father of the young man who did the shooting, and young Thompson, the latter using abusive language in regard to the former. Young Fly, having armed himself, asked Thompson if he would repeat what he had said about his father. Thompson replied in the affirmative, and began to repeat the language, when Fly drew and fired upon him.

The two wounded men were students in Union University, and Fly and his son are residents of Murfreesboro. Fly escaped and had not been arrested at last accounts.—Nash. Gazette.

Mr. Whitty has of late produced a marked sensation in the literary circles of Great Britain by a series of satirical papers published in the London Times, under the nom deplume of "The Stranger in Parliament," which have gained for him the most enviable notoriety of being one of the most powerful political cessayists in Europe and a satirist of great vigor and strength. This, his first complete work, is A SATIRICAL NOVEL of the most brilliant character, combining a racy expose of certain literary and artistic cliques in London, together with a story and plot which for quaintness and interest has been compared to the "Christie Johnstone" and "Peg Woffington" of Charles Reade.

STOMACH OR LIVER,

Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Despondency, Costivenes, Slind and Rieeding Piles. In all Nervous, Rheumatic, and Neuralsic Affections, it has in numerous instances, proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared onstrictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave. Because of its great success in most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in itseffect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.

New York, July 5.

Several riots occurred in this city yesterday, the most serious of which originated in a Bowery fight and was continued with great ferocity for an hour, clubs, stones, bottles, and fire arms being freely used. The Five Pointers were gradually driven back. Eight persons were killed in this riot and about thirty, including several policemen, were wounded. At one period the rioters had the streets barricaded, defying the policemen, of whom there were upward of a hundred present. Three regiments of State troops were ordered out and kept in reserve, but their services were not required, as the riot was finally suppressed by the exertions of the police. NEW YORK, July 5.

In minor riots which occurred during the day tw persons were killed and twenty or thirty badl wounded. In nearly all the disturbances ex-police wounded. In nearly all the disturbances ex-policemen were conspicuous actors. With the exception of these riots among rowdies, the day passed off finely. The weather was propitious. The military and civic displays were brilliant and imposing, and the fire-works at Brooklyn, Williamsburg, and other suburbs were of the most gorgeous description. The pyrotechnic display of the city proper was postponed on account of the partial damage to pieces caused by the damp weather of the week.

BOSTON, July 5. The national holiday was celebrated with the usual patriotic demonstrations. The weather was fine. A melancholy accident occurred during the day which tended to mar the festivities. As a pubday which tended to mar the festivities. As a public display of fire-works was progressing upon the common, a shell rocket mortar burst, killing Geo. P. Tewksbury, formerly harbor master of this port, Asa L. Libby, Patrick Cook, and John McMahon, and badly injuring Mr. Wiseman Marshall, the tragedian, and John C. Robinson.

PROVIDENCE, July 5. The 4th was celebrated here with an unusual display. Dr. Sears, the President of Brown University, delivered an excellent oration. The Free Colored Population in Charles County, Md.
The citizens of Nanjemoy district, in Charles co., Md., have held a meeting, and formed a "mutual self protection association," the object of which is the better government as well as the amelioration of the wretched, idle, and vicious condition of the free colored population of that district. They have adopted a resolution that every free colored person living an idle life, who shall not, by the 17th of July, procure a permanent home, shall be sold at living an idle life, who shall not, by the 17th of July, procure a permanent home, shall be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for the remainder of the year. It appears that the farmers of the district have suffered severely by the dishonesty of the idle and dissolute portion of the colored population, and have combined for self preservation in the

The action of our citizens in ridding Memphis of Joseph Abel is worthy of all praise. He took up his quarters in Arkansas, and drew around him a gang of kindred spirits, thieves, counterfeiters, and robbers. The good people of Crittenden county soon broke up the clan, and "regulated" Abel out of the State. Since then he has resided here, and his house has been the appointed place of rendezvous for penitentiary birds, murderers, counterfeiters, and scoundrels generally.

If no other means would avail, an outraged community should drive such a monster from among them. John A. Murrell was not as depraved.

Memphis Enquirer.

The Fruit Crop.—Several of our fruiterers who have extensive correspondence with gowers of fruit in different parts of the country, agree that the prospects, particularly as regards the apple crop, were never more promising. In this State and at the West, the trees are in excellent condition, but it is still too early to calculate with certainty on the extent of the next harvest. A year ago, the young fruit set very well, but the protracted drought which ensued, dispelled the flattering prospect.

Reports respecting the peach crop are equally favorably.—N. Y. Jour. of Com.

Col. Kinney Turns Up Again.—Capt. Saunders, of the schooner Sarah Bartlett, informs us that Col Kinney, of fillbuster hotoriety, was at Ruatan when he left, the 13th inst. It seems that after leaving Greytown, the Colonel had directed his course to Greytown, the Colonel had directed his course to Omoa, or some place to the eastward, on the Honduras coast, but on account of his supposed sympathy and connection with fillbusterism, was not allowed to land. He afterwards made his way to Ruatan, where the schooner which bore him and his fortunes was condemned, she having sprung a leak in a severe gale in those waters. Kinney was seeking an opportunity to return to this country.

New Orleans Picogune.

Another Episode in the Dalton Divorce Case.—Last evening, as B. F. Dalton was passing up Washington street, accompanied by a friend, he was met at the corner of Decatur street by Mr. John Gove, father of Mrs. Dalton. Some words were exchanged between them, and Mr. Gove proceeded to administer to Mr. Dalton a caning. Dalton did not attempt to defend himself, and only retaliated by using some opprobrious language. Mr. Gove was seized by a friend who was with him at the time, and prevented from inflicting severe punishment upon his son-in-law.—Boston Herald, June 30.
